Committees Lauded for their Work in 2015

When the newsletter periodically provides an update on accomplishments of the Chamber, a large group of volunteers is often overlooked as contributing to that success. As the year end approaches, we'd like to applaud and publicly acknowledge the up to 200 business people who "make it happen". They include volunteers on:

- The Energy and Economic Development Committee which worked diligently to pull together the largest delegation of business and government leaders ever to attend the Global Petroleum Show in order to assist existing companies locate potential customers and identify energy related manufacturing firms with an interest in Western Colorado. Additionally, this group planned the 2015 Energy Briefing Series, the sixth year of this signature event that ranked as one of highest attended events in a recent membership survey.
- The Future Workforce Committee focused on continuing the momentum created by the Young Entrepreneurs' Academy and transformed the Hire Me First program into an after school class with potential for high school credit. The first class will begin in January. Additionally, the Committee championed a partnership effort to apply for admittance to the ACT Workforce Ready Certification program. Once certified, Mesa County can tout third party validation of our workforce credentials to expanding and locating companies.
- The Governmental Affairs Committee and their various subcommittees offered members of the Chamber information on the business platforms of candidates for local office and make recommendations to the Board of Directors on key issues such as the Grand Valley Drainage District fee and the Hospital Provider Fee. They are now working on preparing for the next session of the Colorado General Assembly by reviewing/updating policy guidelines.

- The Air Service Task Force was activated last spring and is a joint effort with the Grand Junction Economic Partnership and Grand Junction Regional Airport to expand nonstop commercial flights, which will assist in business commerce. Two grants have been prepared and submitted for assistance in matching a host of local public and private dollars to entice this additional service to our area.
- The Chamber Diplomats are among the most hardworking volunteers of the entire organization. While many committees meet once a month, this group often gathers twice a week to host ribbon cuttings and stay in contact with the Chamber members. Their outreach role is critical to the health of the organization.

Chairman's Column

Wow! This simply cannot be my last Chairman's Column... the year has moved much too quickly! But reality has set in and I do know that my year as Chairman of this great organization is indeed coming to a close. In looking back, I can clearly see where the time went. We were extraordinarily busy in promoting economic growth and being your voice in 2015 which is the reason we exist. There are a few accomplishments I'd like to highlight as we enter the last month of the year:

- Economic Development and planning to take our efforts to help create jobs to a new level was a big focus for all of us, including our economic development partners. The North Star study was completed. The Chamber, GJEP and BIC reached unprecedented levels of collaboration between staffs and boards which will make us all more effective in the future. I'm also particularly proud of the leadership role the Chamber played in organizing a delegation to attend the Global Petroleum Show in Calgary. As one of the 17 attendees I can assure you that literally hundreds of companies knew we were there and we returned with 34 bona fide leads for business locations and expansions.
- Being the Voice of Business often puts us at odds with others but it is particularly important that policy makers understand how their decisions can help or hurt the job creators in our community. A case in point is the Grand Valley Drainage District's enactment of a fee for storm water that inordinately burdens business and large nonprofit institutions. As of the printing of this newsletter the Chamber continues to look for ways to mitigate the impact on businesses while seeking a more global solution to the problem at hand.

- Almost every business manager I talk to insists that they have difficulty filling positions with qualified people. There is very obviously a gap between those seeking work and those offering employment opportunities. This year the Chamber took significant strides to partner with other community stakeholders, notably the School District and the Mesa County Workforce Center to put the resources into a fulltime workforce coordinator position that can assist our future workers through robust programs like the Young Entrepreneurs' Academy and Hire Me First. Next year we will broaden our efforts to the existing labor force but I get ahead of myself.

You will hear more from me on the 2015 Chamber year at the Annual Banquet but rest assured the comments will be short. Looking ahead I am excited (in more ways than one) to hand the chief volunteer reins over to Matthew Breman. It has been a great year and I want to thank the dedicated board, hardworking staff and you the members for making it such an enjoyable task to lead this dynamic organization. See you at the banquet on January 29th.

Jeff Franklin, Chairman

Dr. Richard Wobbekind

Serving Up the Economy for Lunch December 14th

We all hoped for a sustainable and steady recovery in 2015 and while it didn't happen, we are beginning to see signs of growth as we approach the end of the year. Will 2016 be the year we all breathe a little easier in the Grand Valley knowing our economy is growing stronger day by day?

Find answers to these questions and others at the Chamber's last quarterly membership meeting of 2015 on December 14th. Back by demand for the sixth year in a row is Dr. Richard L. Wobbekind, Director of the Business Research Division and Associate Dean for MBA and Enterprise Programs at the University of Colorado at Boulder. He will provide insights and thoughts about what might lay ahead for businesses in Colorado and on the Western Slope. His presentations are always valuable and insightful and we thank speaker sponsor, Bray and Company, for helping to cover the costs associated with having this renowned economist address the Chamber membership. We also thank ANB Bank for being our luncheon sponsor throughout 2015.

Join us December 14th, 12:00 PM at the Mesa County Workforce Center, 512 29 1/2 Road. Luncheon cost is $19.00 for members and reservations can be made online or by calling 970-242-3214.

We will also be recognizing expanding companies at this event, so please give us a call or email us with information on the nature of your expansion and who will be attending as our guest at the luncheon.

Annual Banquet Will Be “Out of this World!”

The Chamber’s Annual Banquet draws closer and we hope many of you are already planning to join us on January 29, 2016. But we hope you don’t wait a whole month to jump onboard as we can use your help now! Here is how you can help us plan the biggest, best event ever in the next 30 days!

- Nominate a deserving business or individual for our Business and Citizen of the Year awards. Forms are available in the newsletter and online with a deadline of January 4th.
- Donate an item to the Chamber’s silent auction as the proceeds help fund our Young Entrepreneurs Academy and Leadership program. It is great publicity for you and it helps two outstanding programs that help create small business owners and business leaders willing to step forward.
 - Our wish list for the auction includes:
 - Tickets to professional sporting events
 - Hotels, overnight stays, or weekend getaways
 - Time Shares at fun locations
 - Cool New Tech Items like a new Fitbit or Apple watch
 - Restaurant gift cards
 - Underwriting Support for the Live Auction
- Participate by volunteering to serve on the Auction Committee or set up and Decorating Committee.

Membership Survey Results Shared

Each year the Chamber conducts a membership survey in advance of the board planning session to help members of the Board determine the best use of the organization’s resources in service to small businesses. This year, 241 people responded for an overall response rate of approximately 16%. Shown below is a snap shot of some of the information they provided:

- 57% indicated they belong to the Chamber to promote economic growth
- 87% are mostly or very satisfied with their investment in the Chamber
- In terms of which events the members found most beneficial, those cited most often were Business After Hours, Business Showcase, Energy Briefings and Quarterly Membership Meetings
- Committees and programming that the members found most beneficial were: Energy and Economic Development Committee, Governmental Affairs Committee, and the Mesa County Leadership Program.
- When asked about priorities for the Chamber in 2016, the top three items were: Economic Development; Helping existing businesses create jobs; Being the voice of business with government; and Workforce Development.
- The most popular communication vehicles with members are the electronic monthly newsletter, the weekly electronic news and the special event emails.
- When asked what one thing the Chamber could do to help your business in 2016, many of the responses were related to assisting the economy get back on its feet and creating jobs.
- Survey participants were asked to share their thoughts on the economy. The majority (57%) think the economy has stayed the same over the past six months, while 24% thought it was getting better and 20% thought it was getting worse.
- Looking ahead, 50% think 2016 will be similar to this year in terms of their business economically and 28% are predicting business will be better next year.

Working On Your Budget?

The Grand Junction Area Chamber works hard to ensure we provide you with the tools your business needs to be successful. So while you are working on your budget for 2016, please keep us in mind (or in a line item) to be a sponsor of the Grand Junction Area Chamber of Commerce.

Current opportunities include:

- Annual Banquet Sponsorships: Candace is still seeking gaming, decoration and table sponsors for the Annual Banquet on January 29th. Sponsorships range from $500 to $2,500. In addition, she is looking for donations for the silent auction and gaming prizes. She can be reached at 970-263-2919 or candace@gjchamber.org.
- Legislative Video Conference Sponsors: The Chamber hosts eight video conferences with lawmakers between January and May. For $500 you can be a sponsor and help cover technology and room charges as well as elevate your profile with policy works. Contact Sherri Davis Hafer at 970-263-2917 or sherri@gjchamber.org.
- Legislative Trip Sponsors: Sherri is also seeking meal and transportation sponsors for the Chamber's Annual Legislative trip to the State Capitol. Sponsorships range from $500 to $1,500 and she will be happy to discuss them with you. She can be reached at 970-263-2917 or sherri@gjchamber.org.

Nominees Sought for Business/Citizen of the Year

In keeping with our yet to be revealed (but soon) theme for the January 29th Chamber Annual Banquet, we are seeking nominations of businesses and citizens that "go above and beyond" to help make our community special. A panel of past recipients, including those from last year, Knowles Trucking, Trophy Case and Susan Avilliar will be meeting shortly after the deadline of January 4th to select two deserving businesses and one deserving individual that will be recognized at the Annual Banquet.

Keep your eyes on the mail in early December as invitations that are simply "out of this world" arrive. Seating is assigned on a first come, first serve basis.

Network All Year Long!

A major benefit of Chamber membership is the opportunity to network and promote your business. The Chamber has several events per month that maximize your networking opportunities with a variety of different people, including our always well-attended Business After Hours. Business After Hours is held the last Tuesday of each month, from 5:30 to 7:00 p.m. The event is held ten times each year and is the Chamber's premiere networking activity, allowing individuals to meet over 200 potential customers each month.

One of the most convenient ways to ensure that you don't miss any of these important marketing opportunities is to purchase an Annual Business After Hours Pass, now on sale at the Chamber. Each pass is transferable within a business, so if you are unable to attend, simply call the Chamber for an alternate name badge. The cost of an Annual Business After Hours Pass is $80. This rate gives pass holders a 20% discount from the prepayment price for each individual event, and it saves the hassle of having to make reservations each month.

EXPANSION INFORMATION SOUGHT

Has 2015 been a year of growth for your business?

If so, the Chamber would like to know about it! During the Chamber's Quarterly Membership Luncheon, we want to recognize the existing businesses that have grown over the past year. If your company has added employees and/or made a capital investment, let the Chamber office know about it by completing the form below, e-mailing us at diane@gjchamber.org or by calling the Chamber office (970-242-3214).

Oftentimes we celebrate when a new company comes to town and fail to acknowledge and thank those businesses that are already here and continuing to make investments in our community. Jobs created by local companies have the same economic impact as those imported to the community and the increased tax base created by investments of existing firms have the same benefits to local citizens as new companies moving here.

For the past eighteen years, the Chamber has given awards to expanding companies to publicly thank and recognize those firms who have continued to reinvest in Grand Junction. If you have questions, contact Diane at 970-242-3214 or diane@gjchamber.org.
